

CHARLESTON TENNIS CENTER INTRODUCES NEW TENNIS HEAD PRO: DAVY HAIRSTON

The City of Charleston and Charleston Tennis Center are pleased to introduce Davy Hairston as our new Head Tennis Professional. Davy grew up in Charleston and attended Porter Gaud School. He earned a scholarship to University of Virginia where he played number 1 singles and doubles on the varsity tennis team. After college, he played some Professional Satellite and Challenger tournaments including the US National Clay Court Championships. He has formally held positions as Assistant Coach for the College of Charleston Men's Tennis team and Director of Rick Macci's Junior Academy. He has also been teaching professionally at Wild Dunes Resort, Kiawah Island Resort, Kingston Plantation, and Farmington Country Club. Davy's goal is to take the Charleston tennis programs to a nationally recognized level. See the Charleston Tennis Center's page for more information on clinics and lessons with Davy.
